It is seventy years since the organized movement for woman suffrage was begun in the United States. In 1848 Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton called the first Woman's Rights convention of Seneca Fulls, I.

or More" (1895) is her autobiography. A third name is that of Susan B. Anthony (1820-1906). She joined with Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton in organizing the weman suffrage movement. She became in time the real leader of the movement; certainly she was its first militant suf-fragist. Born in Adams, Mass., she came of Quaker stock, and early devoted herself to "temperance" (the prohibition of those days) and to the abolition of slavery.

In 1875 Miss Anthony drafted the amendment to the Constitution which has now been ratified. In 1878 the amendment was introduced in the senwon their fight for votes. Washington ate by Senator Sargent of California. It was defeated in 1887 and thereafter was not even debated in congress until 1914.

The National American Woman Suffrage association in 1912 opened headquarters in Washington and began an active campaign for the passage of the amendment. In 1916 it established branch headquarters there which were devoted entirely to the amendment campaign. The campaign was educational and social as well as political and attracted worldwide attention.

The National Woman's party, organized in 1910 by Alice Paul, established Washington headquarters in 1913 and introduced the militant into the campaign.

Alice Paul-the third Quakeress to immortalize herself-is the spectacular figure of the struggle. She developed the deadliest card index on memhers of congress that practical politics has ever seen. She served notice through the White House pickets that the president was the "man higher up." The arrest of nearly 500 of these pickets and the imposition of jail sentences followed. Incidentally Miss Paul herself served seven terms in

The amendment was beaten three house before it was finally passed by the Sixty-sixth congress June 4, 1919, by the necessary two-thirds majority.

The year 1869 saw the formation of two national organizations: National Suggestion for Plumbers. A plumber working in a North side home recently encountered unusual hospitality. Katherine, age six, was watching the plumber cut the concrete floor in the basement in order to get to a pipe. After working several minutes the plumber leaned back against the wall and remarked that the concrete certainly was hard to cut.

"If you are tired, come upstairs and take a bath and then take a nap," was the child's suggestion.-Indianapolis News.

The line of division was this: The former wished to concentrate on the passage of a constitutional amendment; the latter was in favor of obtaining the suffrage through amendments to state constitutions. In 1890 the two organizations were united under the name of National American Woman Suffage Association, and work was pushed along both lines of endeavor. Mrs. Stanton was president until Miss Anthony served until 1900, resigning at the age of eighty. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt was its head, 1900-1904. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, recently deceased and possibly best loved of all the leaders-a woman of transcendent gifts and elo quence-was president until 1915. Mrs. Catt was then again chosen. Mrs. Frank Leslie left a large legacy to Mrs. Catt to be used in the work.

The National association made arrangements at the St. Louis convention of 1919 to dissolve its organization and become the League of Women Voters. These arrangements became effective at the Chicago conventoin in February last.
